Weekend of Jazz 2020

February 27 – February 29 • Beaver Creek, Ohio

“Where the Future of Jazz meets the Legends of Jazz”

The Beaver Creek Weekend of Jazz is an annual educational jazz festival organized and presented by the Beaver Creek Music Parents Association. Its primary objective is to expose the youth and residents of Beaver Creek and surrounding communities to a variety of jazz forms and styles, and provide opportunities to learn about careers in music directly from professional jazz musicians.

Hundertones

Hundertones brings people together around the globe with fun, imaginative and fearless music. Their high energy, horn-driven sound features genre bending composition and unconventional covers. Every show is a social experience celebrating the joy of music.

The band formed in Columbus, Ohio and is now based in Brooklyn, NY. They've performed in over 20 countries world wide and continue to tour the US and abroad.

Members are: Dan White: Saxophones, Jon Lampley: Trumpet/Sousaphone, Chris Ott: Trombone/Beatbox, Adam DeAscentis: Bass, John Hubbell: Drums, Josh Hill: Guitar, Justin Stanton: Keys/ Trumpet

Yellowjackets

Yellowjackets have received numerous Grammy nominations and two Grammy wins, and place regularly in the Downbeat and Jazz times best ensemble category. Born out of the Robben Ford group in the late 70's Yellowjackets went on to create a sound and style of their own which melds acoustic and electric jazz.

The sound is characteristically Yellowjackets. Members are: Russell Ferrante piano, William Kennedy drums, Dane Alderson bass, and Bob Mintzer saxophone, EWI. For this concert Aaron Janik (USC Thornton 2nd year masters trumpet student) and Matt Richards (USC Thornton senior saxophonist) will join the band.
